How to Dispose of Used Cooking Oil

Used cooking oil, fats and grease must be disposed of correctly.

Contact your garbage and recycling haulers to arrange to have your used oil disposed of properly.

Take small quantities of used cooking oil in a sealed container to the United Boulevard Recycling and Waste Centre, 995 United Boulevard for free recycling.

Do Not Pour Cooking Oil Down the Drain

It is illegal to pour fat, oil or grease down a drain.

Drains lead to creeks where salmon and other animals live.

As cooking oil breaks down, it uses up oxygen killing fish and other animals living in the water.

You can be fined $500 if you do not dispose of used cooking oil correctly.

You will also have to pay for cleanup costs.

Provincial and Federal regulators may also investigate and issue fines.

City of Coquitlam Bylaws

Dumping used fat, oil or grease into a drain or sewer is an offence against the City of Coquitlam Stream and Drainage System Protection Bylaw and the Sewer & Drainage Bylaw. The City may impose a $500 fine.

Provincial and Federal law protects streams, fish and endangered species. Dumping fat, oil or grease in a drain will be reported and additional fines may be imposed.

Report a Problem

If you observe illegal dumping of substances, immediately report it to Coquitlam Engineering Emergency Services for Water, Sewer, Drainage and Roads (24/7) at 604-927-3500 or epw@coquitlam.ca.
